

I AM NOT A MISTAKE FOUNDATION:

CAMPAIGN AGAINST ALL ORGANIZATIONS AND RELEVANT POLITICAL PARTIES TO STOP CAUSING EMOTIONAL WAR BETWEEN ALL SOUTH AFRICANS

CONTRARY TO YOUR BELIEFS, WE THE PEOPLE MIGHT BE BROKEN BUT WE ARE NOT EASILY FOOLED!

MY NAME IS NELIE OLIVIER

CAMPAIGN: POWER TO THE PEOPLE – WE ARE NOT MISTAKES AND REFUSE NOT TO BE HEARD ANYMORE

- After dealing with so many people daily, I feel that it is time for Me – to stand up for every nationality living in South Africa.
 - I am tired of various institutions and political parties who continuously use their platforms, not to solve any of our problems; but rather to try and justify their causes through the creation of hate, anger and fear! (Emotional Warfare)
 - We have ONE CAUSE – FIX SOUTH AFRICA and let us rebuild it TOGETHER !
 - We need to bring back GOD and LOVE and stand together!
 - We all have a past – we cannot live there anymore! We need to look at what is important to fix this country.
 - I am prepared to only refer back to NOAH AND THE ARK and I ask you: did GOD MENTION NATIONALITY? – He (God) told Noah, his wife and his 3 sons and their wives to go forth and make nations!
 - Mistakes were made – it is human but to constantly refer back to various times is just insane as we do not grow as people we are at WAR with each other
 - I need to see ACTION – as not one Institution or Political Party is acting, they just write letters and make statements on social media to seem involved

LEAVE THEM POWERLESS AND LEAD FROM LOVE

Don't get upset
with people
or situations.
Both are powerless without your reaction.

MY UNDERTAKING

- I undertake to stand up against any Institution or Political party utilising their platform to constantly attack various nationalities to create fear and division – it is seen as WAR
- I will not be judged nor placed in a situation that I do not agree with, and am helpless to do something about it
- I will fight to promote LOVE AND PEACE – and to ensure that we all stand together for a better future
- “ACTION SPEAK LOUDER THAN WORDS” - We need to show our commitment
- I will take to stages and platforms to tell all nationalities in South Africa that we need to open our eyes and not be influenced by this emotional warfare that we are subjected to. GOD MUST RULE
- To STOP THE EMOTIONAL WARFARE UNDERTAKEN BY ALL POLITICAL PARTIES AND OTHER INSTITUTIONS as it is taking the focus away from them!
- People of South Africa, your vote is your power and your voice is your power – let us stand together AS ONE NATION TO BE HEARD – not with violence but WITH LOVE AND PEACE IN OUR HEARTS

ALL OUR LEADERS AND OTHER INSTITUTIONS ARE PROMOTING “EMOTIONAL WAR”– AND IT IS WORKING

- Emotional warfare is a major cause of poverty, underdevelopment, and ill health in South Africa
- Emotional warfare often has cultural dimensions related to ethnicity or religion; but there are underlying socio-political and economic causes too – such as Leadership not acting on behalf of the good of the People of South Africa
- Due to the current state of the Nation we deal with causes, which include political, economic, and social inequalities; extreme poverty; economic stagnation; poor government services; high unemployment; environmental degradation; and individual (economic) incentives to fight
- To reduce the likelihood of a true “WAR” it is essential to promote inclusive development; reduce inequalities between groups; tackle unemployment; and, via national and international control over illicit trade, reduce private incentives to fight

ALL OUR LEADERS AND OTHER INSTITUTIONS ARE FOCUSING ON “WAR” – TO DIVERT OUR FOCUS

- Many groups of people who fight together perceive themselves as belonging to a common culture (ethnic or religious), and part of the reason that they are fighting may be to maintain their cultural autonomy. For this reason, there is a tendency to attribute wars to “primordial” ethnic passions, which makes them seem intractable. This view is not correct, however, and diverts attention from important underlying economic and political factors.
- Although a person's culture is partly inherited it is also constructed and chosen, and many people have multiple identities.
- Many of the ethnic identities in South Africa that today seem to be so strong were “invented” by the colonial powers for administrative purposes and have only weak origins in precolonial Africa. Their boundaries are generally fluid, and they have rightly been described as “fuzzy sets.”
- In wars political leaders may deliberately “rework historical memories” to engender or strengthen this identity in the competition for power and resources.

WE NEED TO FOCUS ON THE FOLLOWING:

- Tackling poverty and environmental degradation will reduce the likelihood of war, as well as being critical of development objectives. Reducing large horizontal inequalities is essential to eliminate a major source of conflict. Policies that diminish private incentives to fight, especially once conflict is under way, are also needed. Above all, there is a need to secure inclusive government—from political, economic, and social perspectives—and a flourishing economy so that all major groups and most individuals gain from participation in the normal economy.
- From a political perspective, inclusive government is not simply a matter of democracy; majority based democracy can lead to oppression of minorities.
- Conflict is greatest in semi-democracies or governments in transition and least among established democracies and authoritarian regimes. Democratic institutions must be inclusive at all levels—for example, voting systems should ensure that all major groups are represented in government.
- Economic and social policies are needed to systematically reduce horizontal inequalities. Policies towards investment, employment, education, and other social services should aim at reducing imbalances and inequalities. Such policies need to be introduced cautiously since action to correct horizontal inequalities has occasionally provoked conflict by the group whose privileged position is being weakened, the ANC.

WE NEED TO FOCUS ON THE FOLLOWING (2)

- A major problem is that the government of a conflict-prone country may resist such action, since it may be the beneficiary of the imbalances. Outside agencies can point to the need to reduce horizontal inequalities, but ultimately such policies must depend on domestic actors.
- In the short term, policies to change private incentives to fight include providing employment schemes and credit to young men. In the longer term, extending education and achieving inclusive development will enhance peacetime opportunities. Better control and legitimacy of international markets in drugs, timber, diamonds, etc, should reduce opportunities to profit from illegal trade during war.
